

ASUs Campus has room for Healthier Options

The Dining Halls are what most students turn to for their meals but a lot of students aren't happy with the options there.

Healthier Food options in the Dining Halls and around campus can help to satisfy students' wants and needs for each and every diet.

Options Include:

Vending machines with healthy snacks.

Wider menu options.

Foods that can meet everyone's dietary restrictions.

Reduce less healthy meals.

Healthier options in the POD Markets.

Students aren't satisfied with the current Dining Hall selections

Most students say that they would like healthier options on and around campus.

Most students say that the food in the dining hall doesn't meet everyone's dietary needs.

ASU Dining Halls should introduce healthier alternatives.

- Foods to meet everyone's dietary needs
- Overall healthier options
