The Academic Success Programs faculty in the University College on the Tempe campus at Arizona State University invites applications for a Lecturer for the 2017-2018 academic year. In addition to a typical teaching load of 10 credits per semester, the successful candidate will also be expected to participate in service to the institution and profession as appropriate. Course load is determined by the Director. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure eligible position renewable on an academic year basis contingent upon satisfactory performance, availability of resources, and the needs of the university. Salary is competitive commensurate with experience. Candidate must reside in Arizona, or be willing to relocate.

University College Academic Success Program (ASP) is designed to provide ASU students with all of the necessary tools and resources needed for success. Students will work with two colleges at ASU. First, the college that offers their major and second, University College which provides academic success courses, tutoring, adaptive learning strategies, individualized learning plans, innovative technology-delivered math skill development, and full access to all ASU campus resources. Serving more than 4000 students each academic year, the staff and faculty in Academic Success Programs strive to make sure that every member of the Sun Devil community is successful. To learn more about University College, visit our website at https://uc.asu.edu/.

Academic Success Program (ASP) partners with the Office of the Provost to deliver The LEAD Project, an interdisciplinary cohort-based initiative designed to support incoming freshman students by providing an intimate and profound learning experience. The students enroll in 7 credits in the fall and 7 credits in the spring. Students learn how to think critically and manage a real-world project from inception to completion, developing skills such as creativity, communication, problem-solving and teamwork. The faculty work collaboratively to support students across different subject areas in weekly LEAD meetings.

The successful candidate will demonstrate excellent in-class instruction at the undergraduate level and a passion for teaching in an interdisciplinary environment that serves students from all colleges and majors. The lecturer will facilitate collaborative curriculum development among LEAD cohort faculty, facilitate weekly LEAD faculty meetings, coach LEAD faculty on student-centric pedagogy and interventions, conduct classroom observations for LEAD faculty, organize and conduct research to submit to conferences and journals, meet with campus partners to share information about The LEAD Project, and other duties as assigned to support the success of the courses and program.

Required Qualifications
1. Terminal degree in any academic field that adds richness to our program (e.g. education, psychology, etc.);
2. Four years of experience teaching in-person at the undergraduate level;
3. Excellent English written and verbal communication skills;
4. Demonstrated interest in and knowledge of issues of human diversity.

Desired Qualifications
1. Experience working with first-year college students;
2. Experience teaching critical thinking courses;
3. Evidence of working with diverse student populations;
4. Experience developing new training programs for faculty;
5. Experience with retention efforts supporting college student success;
6. Experience with curriculum development for undergraduate coursework;
7. Experience teaching information literacy skills;
8. Experience facilitating student led classroom discussions;
9. Evidence of effective collaboration skills
Application Procedure:
To apply, visit https://universitycollege.asu.edu/jobs and upload your application as one combined .pdf document under job number 11999. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Applications must contain:
1. A letter of application explicitly addressing required and desired qualifications;
2. Current Curriculum vitae;
3. One page teaching statement detailing your pedagogical approach and how you can contribute to student success;
4. Evidence of teaching effectiveness
5. Information for three professional references (their position, title, e-mail, phone number)

The application deadline is 05/26/2017 at 5pm; and if not filled, then every Friday thereafter until the search is closed. A background check is required prior to employment. Official transcripts required prior to first day of employment. If you have questions about the position, email: Corinne.Corte@asu.edu. If you have technical questions, email: CISAjobs@asu.edu.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. ASU’s full non-discrimination statement (ACD 401) and Title IX policy are located at https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html and https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/.

ASU offers applicants an opportunity to voluntarily self-disclose information for the University affirmative action plan; applicants may complete an EEO survey for the position they are applying for online. Information you will need to complete the survey: Job Number: 11999; Job Title: Instructor, Academic Success Programs; College Name: University College.

General Information: Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university named #1 in the United States for innovation for the second consecutive year, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. ASU’s University College is home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world. To learn more about ASU and the University College, go to: http://about.asu.edu/ and https://universitycollege.asu.edu/.