Why we need BudgetMe!

“Students are constantly worried about how to spend money the right way and they are always wondering if they will have enough money to get them through the semester”(Grabmeier).

How does a college student budget their money?

With BudgetMe, an application designed by ASU freshmen, students will be able to log in with their student accounts and receive tips on how to better track their money, save their money and invest their money.

#BudgetMe

BudgetMe is a quick and easy platform that will teach college students how to manage money.

BudgetMe has been designed to:

- Track students' money
- Provide tips and tricks on how to spend their money
- Earn passive income
- Frequent posts on different ways to become more financially independent
