

Financial Literacy Support Group

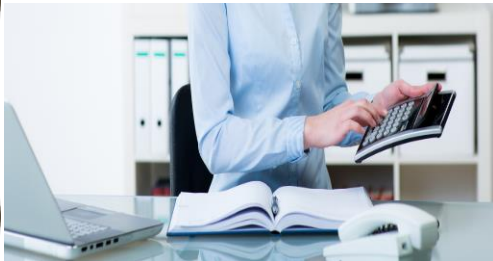

A report finds that nearly half of the millennial generation (45 percent) worries about debt, even more than they worry about their job or health.

Are you experiencing financial distress?
36 responses

Benefits of a Support Group

- Increase financial literacy
- Advice from peers and experts
- Finding resources and connections

How likely are you to attend a support group for financial budgeting/strategies?
36 responses

